GETTING WILD AND WESTERN - Sunday's edition of the Elk Point Spring Classic Stampede started out with the Wild Cow Milking, with an agile bunch of bossies fleeing across the arena with determined ropers in hot pursuit.

Elks year end awards

Elk Point Elks senior hockey club held their Awards Night last Friday evening, with a good crowd of fans and sponsors on hand with further congratulations on the Elks' best year ever.

Their win of the Sask-Alta League was the "first championship as long as I can remember" for an Elk Point senior hockey team, according to team manager and former Elks player Vic Stepa, who served as the evening's MC.

Ed Buck spoke both in his capacity as Elk Point Mayor and as the team's President. "It's quite an honor for the community to have a league winner. You're a special group of guys - keep it up next year!" As President, "I think of all the past executives who helped Senior Hockey grow. One of my proudest accomplishments was to win a Most Improved Player award [as a member of the Elk Point

SPRUCE-UP WEEK - Last week was Spruce Up Week in Elk Point, and the Town of Elk Point helped out the Chamber of Commerce by sending this crew to give the Tourist Information Centre's trees a serious haircut.

No rain on our rodeo!

Elk Point Rodeo has shaken its growing reputation as a 'rainmaker rodeo.' Only a very brief shower on Saturday dampened the proceedings, a huge contrast to the past two years, when the grounds and infield were deep in mud.

Both performances started with a colorful Grand Entry by a group of flag bearing local riders. Travis Pankiw led O Canada, while Roy Scott doffed his big Stetson to offer the Cowboy's Prayer.

Wild Cow Milking was a part of Sunday's rodeo, made somewhat less adventurous by the lack of mud, but still a very entertaining spectacle of rampaging getaways by wily cows and last-ditch attempts by frustrated ropers and muggers. Last year's winners, George Pinder and Leigh Babcock, were again the first to complete a successful attempt for the Banana Hill Farms trophy.

A serious mishap marred Sunday's Bareback Bronc Riding, when Roy Mahon's pickup horse collided with a recently vacated bronc, throwing Mahon to the ground. He was taken to hospital with injuries including broken ribs. Rocky Ross of Botha was Sunday's top rider, marking a 72 to tie for the win with Foss Irwin of Wetaskiwin, riding Jackson Ho. The Bareback trophy was sponsored by R. H. Fleming Holdings of Lloydminster. Bareback rider Rocky Ross stepped in to take Mahon's place as pickup man alongside Jim Moore for the balance of the rodeo.

Sunday's Calf Ropers did not have much luck, with only four of the sixteen completing the task, and none matching the top time turned in Saturday by Scott Auclair of Beazanson, who roped and tied his dogie in 10.5 seconds for the Stanchuk Trucking trophy.

Sunday was the winning day for Junior Steer Riders, however. Shaun Low of Mayerthorpe scored a 71 for the Hi-West Well Servicing trophy, to move Saturday's leaders, Trevor Wittmack of Consort and Chris Jackson of Goodfish, both with 66 points, down on the pay scale. David Bensmiller scored a 67 to win the Local Junior Steer Riding, sponsored by the Elk Point Light Horse Club and Rangeland Plumbing.

Steer Wrestlers found Sunday a challenging day, but Saturday's leader, Shane Scoville of Coronation, was dethroned by Trevor Stocking, who was declared the winner of the Cobra Energy trophy with his 6.9 second run.

Saturday proved the best day for the Team Ropers, with Murray Linthicum and Rocky Dallyn's 6.9 second effort in Saturday's slack going unmatched for the E-Can Oilfield Services trophy. One of Sunday's runs clocked in at 6.7 but received a 10 second barrier penalty.

Junior Barrel Racing, sponsored by Shamrock Valley Enterprises, went to hometown cowgirl Erica Nielsen with a speedy 17.46 second run edging out Tara Muldoon who clocked 17.476 in the Saturday performance.

Clem Johnson to administrate two hospitals

Elk Point Hospital Board has announced that they and the Bonnyville Hospital Board have come to an agreement to share administrative duties. Clem Johnson, present administrator of Elk Point Municipal Hospital, will commence his duties as administrator of both facilities on June 1, 1994.

Minor Ball receives donations

HELPING OUT WITH MINOR BALL - Elk Point Minor Ball now has their 1994 season well underway, and was pleased to receive several recent donations toward operating expenses. At right, Andrew Boddy (right) of E-Can Oilfield Services presents a donation for Minor Ball to Kevin Bjornstad, while above, Royal Canadian Legion Bingo Chairman Helen Moneta and Legion member Carl Dembicki present Allan Frankiw with a $100 cheque for Minor Ball. With Frankiw are two Mite Boys teams sponsored by E-Can, representing a small part of the over 240 young people registered for teams from T-Ball to Bantam age group, an increase of 10 to 15 percent over last year's numbers.

Community Services News

Seniors a strength for the family

The first full week of June has been set aside to celebrate one of our most valuable and important resources... Seniors! Seniors Week acknowledges the contributions that seniors make to our community, province and society. This year's theme is "Seniors - A Strength For The Family," in recognition of the International Year of the Family. The intent of Seniors Week is:

1. to recognize and honor seniors in Alberta
2. to highlight the positive contributions that seniors are making in their communities
3. to promote understanding and encourage positive attitudes toward seniors.

Everyone is encouraged to become involved and to be a part of the celebrations. If you are interested in being part of the planning committee or are interested in participating in other ways, call Community Services at 724-3800.

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE FAMILY

1994 has been designated as International Year of the Family. Community Services has a number of promotional items available for purchase. We have excellent quality sweatshirts ($20), t-shirts ($8), posters ($1), lapel pins ($2), brooches ($6) and gold plated earrings ($8) available to the community at cost price.

Give IYF items to show appreciation to your volunteers, to recognize achievements or as a memento for a guest speaker. Brochures are available where you can directly order other IYF items such as mugs, caps, golf shirts, flags, banners, posters and more. Call 724-3800 for more information or stop by and see our IYF items.

THE DIRTY DOZEN Tips For Helping A Town Go Downhill In The '90s

1. Live in the past and talk about how things used to be.
2. Attend no meetings of any kind. Keep relying on rumors for the source of all your news.
3. Bad mouth our local leaders in Chamber of Commerce and service clubs and don't get involved in making the town a better place to live. Be sure and criticize the way "they" are doing things.
4. Remind others at all times of the cold and harsh winters, also the very hot summers. Point out that people must be rugged to enjoy life in such conditions.
5. Complain about the Police Department, the Volunteer Fire Department, and all volunteers.
6. Buy things out of town or from mail order catalogues. Ignore the firms that are first to come forth with donations for local worthy causes, ignore the merchants who work for the good of the town.
7. Stay away from schools and don't support the youth of the community.
8. Remember that all kids are delinquents, all businessmen are crooks, and that nothing good can be said about the old home town.

9. Keep on saying "This is the way it's always been. We can't do it differently."

10. Forget the meaning of the word "VOLUNTEER" and keep saying, one person can't make a difference.

11. Above all, always be skeptical, cynical, and negative about anything that is intended for the community's progress and betterment.

12. Forget about the feelings of others and concern yourself with only your problems.

Every time I watch that ol' classic... OL' YELLER, I cry! Yes, I know it's hard to believe but it's true. Ol' Yeller still brings tears to my eyes. I can rationalize, hide, look away -- and it still happens. It may happen in your home, too!

In some homes ol' yeller is a daily rerun. Rather than asking, telling, leading or properly disciplining, parents resort to yellin'! Asking recognizes that they may have an opinion on the matter. Telling recognizes that there are no options. It's important! It's not a debate. Leading recognizes that we will both feel better if we do it together. The relationship is more important than the task. Yellin'? Well, yellin' still brings tears -- but that's all.

P.S. Ol' Yeller died! Or did he? Have you seen ol' yeller at your place?

AUXILIARY HOSTS HEALTH DAY EVENTS - Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary hosted a well attended Tea, Bazaar, and Bake Sale to mark Canada Health Day last Friday. Wasy Elashuk (left) and Violet McFadyen were among the dedicated Auxilians who manned the tables as the group raised well in excess of $500 with the event. The Auxiliary also held their raffle draw at the tea, with Adell Blize winning the quilt, Shirley Pacholek the hooked rug, Tara Demchuk a decorative swan and Bob Pindrock a rug. A total of $970 was raised with the raffle. These funds will go toward the many helpful projects with which the Auxiliary helps the hospital and its patients. The Licensed Practical Nurses were on hand for their blood pressure clinic, and had a draw for a flowering plant, won by Lois Sharek and a mug, won by Jean McGinnis.

Securing your home - a few easy steps

There were more than 43,000 "break and enters" reported by Albertans in 1992. How many of these could have been prevented with a few easy home security ideas?

Safeguarding your home means learning two things: 1) what to do to keep intruders out; and 2) how to prevent your home from becoming an easy target. Both of these will help safeguard your home and your valuables from home theft. They may also protect your family from intruders, by making it difficult to get inside your home or delaying a burglar until you can call the police.

Doors: All exterior doors should be solid, about 4.5 centimeters thick, making it difficult for burglars to break through them. Glass and hollow core doors are not very secure, leaving your home vulnerable. Door frames should be solid and equipped with a proper strike plate. Any windows within arms-length of a door lock should be plexiglass or Lexan, instead of glass.

Do not rely on door knob and handle locks because, to today's burglars, they are an invitation for easy access to your home. Install one-inch deadbolt locks on all exterior doors, instead. The single cylinder deadbolt lock is the common type, operated by a key from the outside and a thumbturn on the inside.

Patio doors are the most difficult to secure and are undoubtedly the first thing a burglar looks for when scouting-out a home to burglarize. Most glass patio doors can simply be lifted out of the tracks, easy prey for even the most unsophisticated of burglars. The solution: install metal screws in the upper track to fill the space above the door, making it impossible for the door to clear the lower track. Patio doors can also be pinned like windows or locked with commercial locks.

Windows: Most window locks can be pried open easily. To upgrade security, install secondary locks on all your windows. Nearly all types of windows can be pinned, making it a bit more difficult to gain entry. Commercial pins can be purchased, but large nails are also effective and economical.

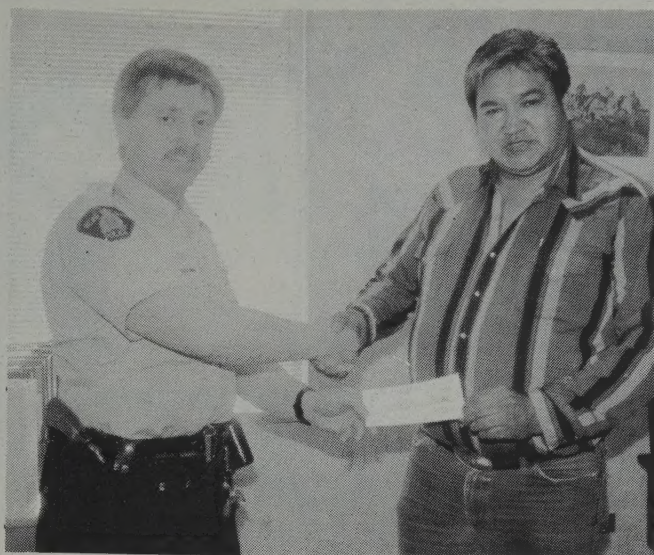

Drill a 3/16" hole from the inside window frame through the outside frame. Then insert a nail or pin into the hole to secure the window. For sliding aluminum windows drill the hole from the sliding panel into the stationary panel.

Basement windows are a common entry point for many burglars, especially if they are shielded from sight by bushes or shrubs. If possible, replace the glass windows with plexiglass or Lexan. Use security bars - many of them are available in decorative designs - to secure your basement windows. Be sure to install bars that are removable in case of an emergency.

When You're Away: Notify trusted neighbors if you plan to be away. Ask them not to inform any strangers that you are out of town, and to call the police immediately if they see any unusual or suspicious activity around your home. Also ask them to change the positions of your curtains and blinds from time to time and to pick up daily flyers and circulars.

Arrange for the post office to hold or forward your mail and cancel all home deliveries of newspapers, milk, etc. Have your lawn and shrubs trimmed while you are away and use timers to control radios and interior and exterior lights.

Before you leave, be sure that all ladders and tools are locked up out of sight. Be sure that all your timing devices are set and operational and that everything is locked securely.

COMMUNITY HELPS WITH CRIME PREVENTION - One way that local communities have helped with crime prevention in recent months is with donations toward the RCMP's equipment fund. Chief Thomas Abraham of Frog Lake First Nations presented Cst. Pat Wasylynuk with a $565 donation toward a cellular phone which will help the Detachment's staff prioritize calls and decrease RCMP response time.

1994 ALBERTA CRIME PREVENTION WEEK

Crime Prevention

It's Everybody's Business

Crime Prevention Week, May 14 to 21, 1994, has taken as its theme, "Crime Prevention - It's Everybody's Business," with a focus on the importance of all individuals becoming involved in crime prevention activities.

Alberta Justice Minister Ken Rostad, QC, says that Crime Prevention Week "provides an important opportunity to focus on making communities safe from crime. The goal is to make crime prevention a year-round activity and to give communities the tools to work together to identify problems and address them through prevention."

In our local area, a Community Advisory Committee is currently being formed for that very purpose. Town Councillor Dan Povaschuk and RCMP Cst. Pat Wasylynuk are spearheading the group which will identify concerns and work toward solutions. A similar committee was recently set up at Fishing Lake and is working well. There is also a Youth Justice Committee in the Frog Lake and Fishing Lake areas, which has a similar purpose and works with young people.

In the rural area, the Greater Lakeland Rural Crime Watch has over 100 active members who keep a watchful eye on would-be perpetrators. Elk Point is part of Zone 12, which covers the entire Elk Point RCMP Detachment area. Cattle rustling, theft and destruction of property are among the things these volunteers help to prevent through their ongoing surveillance.

Crime prevention is, of course, the major role of the RCMP. However, the local detachment also finds other ways to help keep community residents safe. One of these ways is by teaching young people the basic rules of bicycle safety. Cst. Chris de la Giroday recently attended a Bicycle Road-e-o held by the Elk Point Scouting Association, and helped the members with bicycle identification. He also will be visiting the Grade 1 students at the Elementary School this week to talk about bike safety and to promote the wearing of bicycle helmets. Helmets are very important for cyclists of all ages, but especially for children. "You don't have to be going very fast to get a severe head injury," de la Giroday emphasises.

Stopping assaulters in their tracks

Alberta Crime Prevention Week is the perfect time to review your habits to see whether you are putting yourself at risk of assault. Assault is defined as the intentional use of force or sexual activity without your consent. It can happen anywhere - in parks, in vehicles, parking lots, elevators, public places. In the case of sexual assault, the most likely setting is your own home.

So, how can you protect yourself from assault? The first step is to be aware of places or situations that put you at risk.

Home Security: Make sure your home is secure - put good locks on doors and windows, change the locks when you move into a new house or apartment, make sure your entrances are well lit, and install a peephole in your door. Get to know your neighbors, and make plans to keep an eye on each other's homes. If someone comes to your door to use the phone, offer to make the call for them rather than let them into the house. It's a good idea to list only your initials and last name on your mailbox or telephone listing, especially if you are a woman living alone.

In the Community: When you are walking in the community, take some simple precautions to protect yourself - and be prepared to act fast if you feel at risk of assault.

Make sure you know where you're going, stay on well-lit streets, and don't overload yourself with parcels that obstruct your view or slow you down. Pay attention to your instincts - if your gut is telling you to avoid going one way, choose another path instead.

If you feel you're being followed, quickly assess your options. Can you run or change direction? Are there people or a well-lit area nearby, or a house or business to run to? Do what you can, and do it fast - you may not be in danger, but it's best to play it safe. And remember - never hitchhike!

In Your Car: When you are driving or parking your car, use common sense to protect yourself. Don't keep your car registration and license in your car - they will tell a burglar where you live. Keep your vehicle locked when it's parked and when you're driving. Park in well-lit areas, and be alert when you're getting in and out of your car.

Always have your keys ready when you approach your car, and check that no-one is inside before you get in. Don't pick up hitchhikers, and don't stop for stranded motorists (the most useful thing you can do is call someone like the police to assist them). If your car breaks down, raise your hood, put on your hazard lights and if you feel it's a risky situation (e.g. it's dark, or a deserted area), stay inside with the windows up and doors locked. If somebody stops to help, ask them to call for assistance (do not go with them).

These simple precautions can make a big difference to your risk of assault, but even the most alert and cautious person can still end up being a victim. If you are assaulted, call the police immediately - the sooner you report the crime, the better. Don't change your clothes or bathe - you may destroy evidence that can help convict the person who has attacked you. Do talk to someone who can help you deal with your feelings about the assault - a friend, a family member, a counsellor, a sexual assault centre person.

Spring Classic Rodeo

Saddle Brone's winner was a Saturday competitor. Orvin Abbott of Morinville rode Cisco to a score of 71 for the Woody's Trophy and Gift award.

C. J. Best of Heinsburg is an up and coming young Bare-back rider who marked 61 on Little Smoky to win the Novice Horse Riding award sponsored by the Empress Family Restaurant.

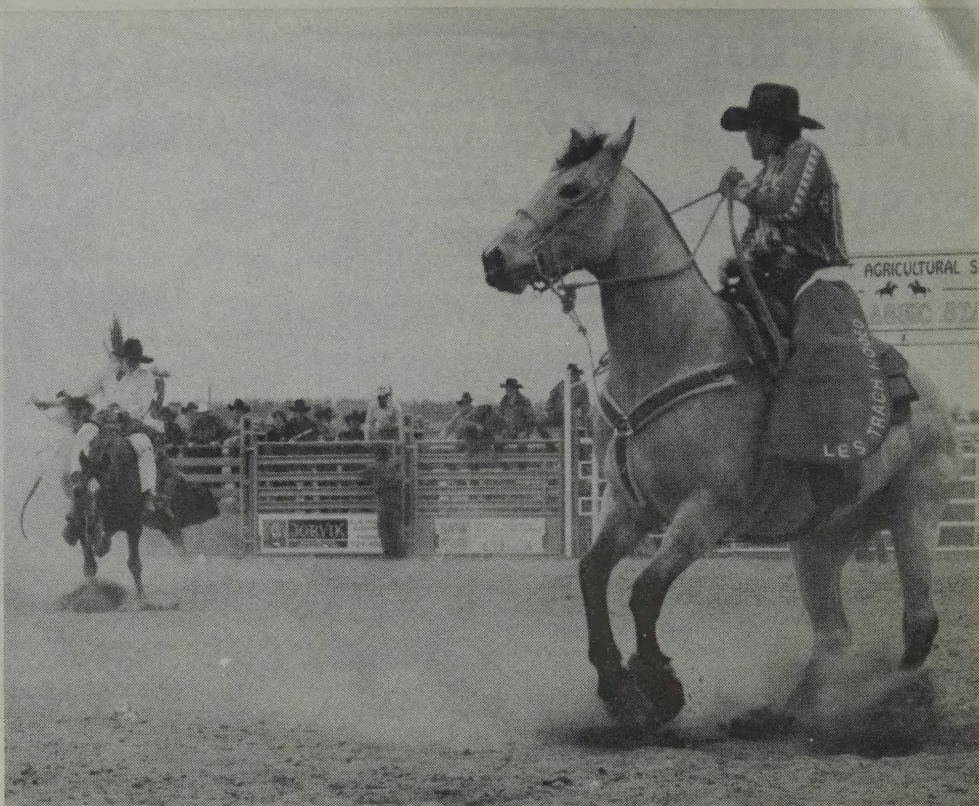

Ladies' Barrel Racing was sponsored by Lloydminster Heavy Crude, with the trophy going to Natalie Ree of Bentley, who set a scorching pace with her 17.300 run on Saturday.

Several 72 point scores held sway in the Bull Riding as the rodeo neared its conclusion. That tie was broken by Kirk Jacknife of Grand Centre, marking 75 on a mottled black and white bull named Checkers. However, it was Derek Hehr of Gibbons, who has come up through the ranks since he was a local school kid riding junior steers, who made the best mark of the rodeo with an impressive 80 point ride on Les Trach's Oscar, to win the Tags Gas and Groceries trophy.

The rodeo wrapped up with the riotous and risky Suicide Ride, in which a bull, a bare-back horse and a saddle brone are released from the chutes simultaneously, with wildly costumed riders aboard. Kirk Jacknife and Dan Birch split the honors, which included a cash prize contributed by Lakeland Tire and Capitol Drugs, and a trophy slicker from Young's Welding.

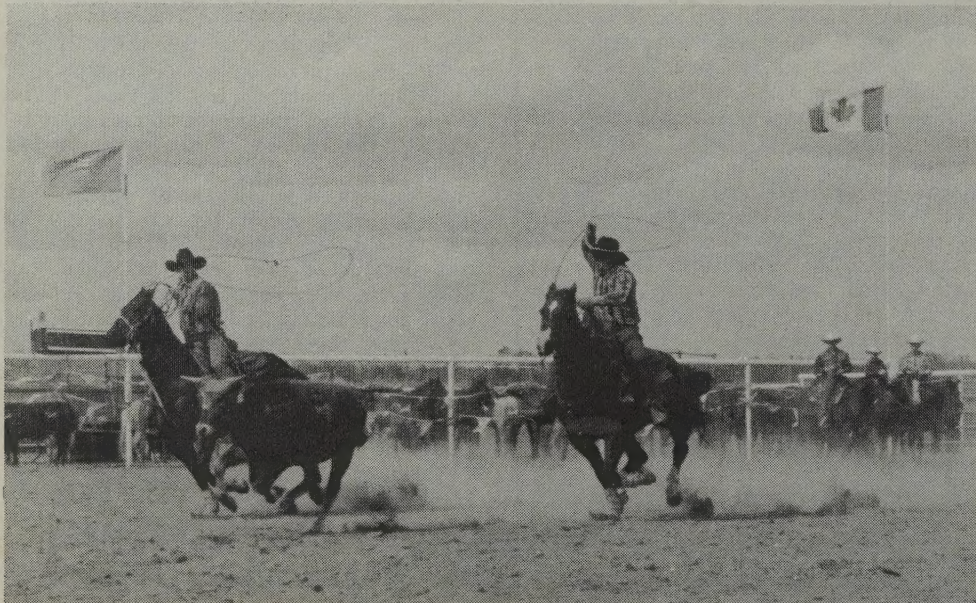

The rodeo featured Elk Point's favorite rodeo announcer Bernie Poitras, bull-fighter Bobby Morrison and the excellent stock of St. Paul rodeo contractor Les Trach. Denny Robbie and Dennis Hobman were the judges. There were a total of 32 entries and a payout of $14,682 in prize money.

READY FOR A WRECK - Rocky Ross, pinch-hitting for injured pickup man Roy Mahon, is poised for rescue should this Suicide Ride contestant need his help.

HANGING IN FOR THE WIN - Derek Hehr was more than a match for the fancy dance steps being executed by 'Oscar' in this award-winning 80 point ride at Sunday's rodeo.

FATHER AND SON TEAM - Peter and Matthew Veer ready their loops in the Team Roping competition at the Spring Classic Stampede.

TENNIS NEWS

Linda Shmyr
Tennis Instructor

Hi there! Last week I told you all about myself and the Elk Point Tennis Club. Now I bet you are wondering when tennis lessons are going to begin. Well, I'm here to tell you I have already met after school with a few really dedicated young tennis players from last year. I will continue to be at the courts every day after school for beginner lessons, as well as practice sessions for others.

On Monday, May 16 I started instructing Physical Education classes, Grades 5 to 12. This is to introduce the game of tennis and to encourage children to become more active in the sport.

On Monday, May 30 from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. and continuing every Monday and Wednesday evening, drop-in beginner lessons and practice sessions for adults are scheduled.

I encourage families to come out any time after school or during adult drop-in times to see what the Elk Point Tennis Club is all about.

The fees this year are: Students $15; Adults $20; and Families $50. With the addition of $5 to each membership you will receive an Elk Point Tennis Club t-shirt. You can pick up registration forms at F. G. Miller High School, stores around town, or from myself.

Call me if you have any questions at 724-3853.

Come out and support the Elk Point Tennis Club -- it's going to be a great year!

BEST DRESSED IN THE WEST - The staff of Elk Point's Toronto Dominion Bank were judged Best Dressed Staff in the Chamber's Rodeo Week Dress Up Contest. Second place went to Elk Point Insurance and Realty, while Elk Point Gas took the Best Dressed Business award, with the Elk Point Review second.

Red Cross wraps up campaign

Margaret White, Campaign Coordinator for Elk Point and District, said that the 1994 Red Cross Campaign was very successful, collecting a total of $9032.50. She expressed sincere thanks to all the volunteer canvassers and the donors, without whom "we would not have success in raising these funds."

This year, Landonville raised $1189, Heinsburg and area raised $1302.85, Lindbergh and area $1079, Elk Point Rural $2815.15 and Elk Point Town $2646.50.

Thank you, everyone, for a successful campaign.

The fact that we live with electricity shouldn't come as a shock.

Electricity is a fact of life. In fact, it's so much a part of everyday life that people forget the potential for accidents. Contact with overhead power lines or exposed wires can cause serious injury. Even faulty household appliances and electrical plugs can deliver enough current to kill an adult. Understanding how electricity works can keep you, and those close to you, safe. When it comes to electricity, what you don't know can hurt you. For more information on electrical safety, call your local Alberta Power office.

Fun and Furry show results

Charlene Baker
Fairgrounds Committee

On Saturday, April 16, the Tall Horse Saddlery of Edmonton and the Elk Point Agricultural Society sponsored the Fun and Furry Horse Show at the Elk Point Fairgrounds and Show Arena.

The day turned out to be warm and sunny, which brought out a lot of competitors for the show, 53 entries were recorded. The classes were divided into Junior 13 and Under, Junior 14 - 16, and Senior 16 and Over. The judge was Dianne Jackson of Shady Grove Farms, Bonnyville, and ringmaster was Shanna Baker.

Everyone seemed to have a good time and enjoyed getting their horse out and about early in the season. There were ribbons to 6th place in each class and Dwayne Warren, owner of Tall Horse Saddlery, was on hand to give out the prizes for first and second. These were assorted horse products and grooming equipment that people could choose from for their prizes. Dwayne also presented High Point $20 certificates to the High Point Junior, Amanda Ferris, High Point Senior, Kim McMinnis, Furriest Horse, shown by Melissa Snelgrove, and Youngest Rider, Claire Palsat.

We would like to thank Dwayne of the Tall Horse Saddlery for his generous sponsorship and look forward to next year's "Fun and Furry!" Also thanks to Hughie Krucik, Norma Lorensen, Wendy Young, Glenn Harms, Josie Veer and Shauna Campbell for their help with the show.

Elks awards

Bucs]. You guys epitomize all those years of senior hockey. Let's get out there next year and do it again!"

Micheal Chubey, Exalted Ruler of the Elk Point BPO Elks, who sponsor the team, called it "a helluva season" which "showed that hockey is still a highlight here in Elk Point." He assured the team that further financial assistance for the team is forthcoming for next season, and was given a standing ovation for all the help the lodge has given senior hockey.

Coach Keith Campbell, who did a great job of bringing veteran senior players and rising stars who have graduated from minor hockey together into a winning team, said he was "really proud of all the guys I've played with for years and the guys who came up through the [minor hockey] ranks. I promise to be the same taskmaster next year."

Team captain Terry Wozniak said he was "hard on the guys, but we had a good season and it paid off. I look forward to seeing them all again next year."

Wozniak was named the team's Best Defenceman, and received the E-Can trophy. Kelly Harms was the year's Most Improved Player, taking home a trophy from Sharkey's Service Ltd., while Jeff Buck was named Most Dedicated Player for a trophy from Canadian Salt. Greg Desaulniers, with 26 goals and 17 assists to his credit, was the year's Top Scorer, winning the Elk Point Insurance trophy.

Goalie Curtis Porcina was a double winner, receiving the Rookie of the Year award donated by Michelle's Hair Design and sharing the Playoff MVP honors with Jon Olson. Porcina and Olson received the Paul Buck Memorial trophy from JMB Crushing Systems.

The Elks' Most Valuable Player for 1993-94 was Kerry Loughran, who said he "had a lot of fun this year" as he accepted the Sharkey's Service Ltd. trophy.

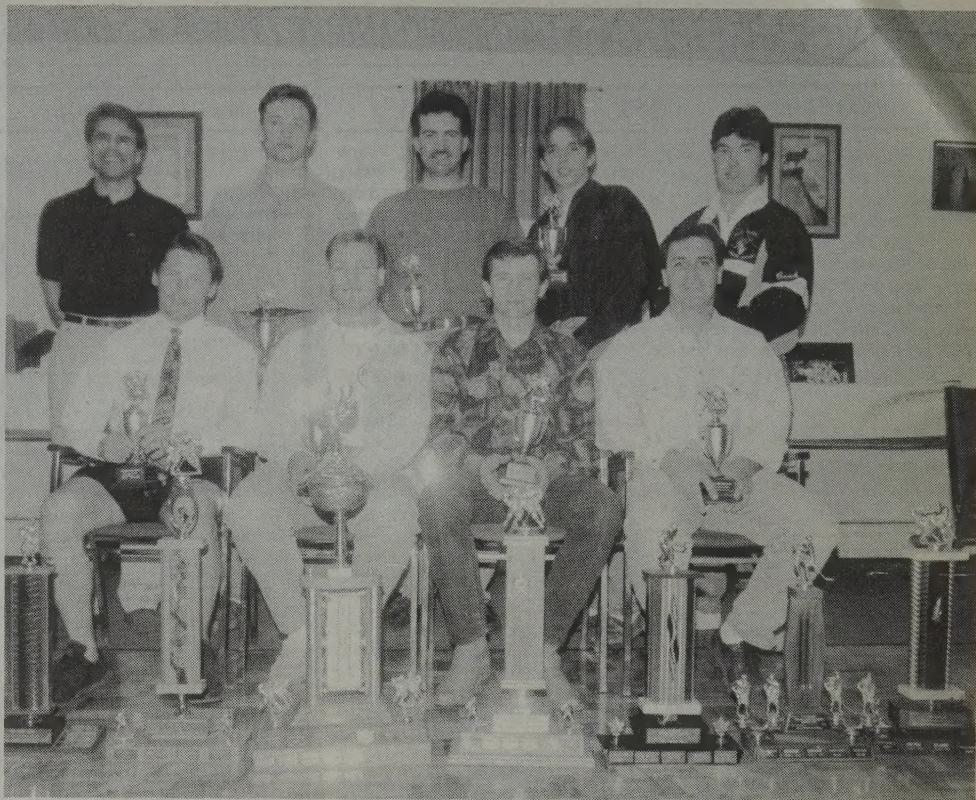

Players Mike Boratyneec and Jeff Buck had plaques for a number of people the team had had no opportunity to thank last year: Lorn and Angie Berg, Del and Faye Smith, Bill and Adella Jennissen. They also presented a plaque to John Soldan, who has spent the winter filming Elks games on video and taking a multitude of still photos. Soldan condensed the year into a very entertaining video which was shown at the conclusion of the awards.

Victor Stepa offered thanks to the Elks executive, the trainers, Coach Campbell, timers Milton Lorensen and Lloyd Jenner, penalty box keeper Victor Yuschyshyn, goal judges Adam Smereka and Bill Zapesocki, statician Lee Ann Wozniak, game and program sponsors, media representatives Colleen Priest and Vicki Brooker, and publicity director John Soldan. He thanked all those who took their turn taking admissions, the Elks who volunteered to run the bar for the awards night, and all the loyal fans for their support.

Ed Buck added thanks to Stepa, who has been involved in hockey in Elk Point "since he was so high," for his efforts with the team.

Team photos were then distributed to players and executive. In accepting his photo, Albert Boratyneec said "the players did all the work -- and it showed on the ice."

What's News at the Library

Welcome to the summer reading program coordinator!

hele Duczek

It's time to introduce a familiar face to library patrons. Diane Mudryk has been hired as the Summer Reading Program Coordinator. Diane worked at the library last year on the retrospective conversion project and the summer before that as the Summer Reading Program Coordinator. The theme for this summer's program is Reading Rodeo.

Thanks go out to Norcen

Energy Resources and its subsidiary, Superior Propane, for their donation of $1000 to the library for the purchase of library furnishings. Stay tuned to this space for further updates.

NEW BOOKS

This June marks the 50th anniversary of the Operation Overlord, also known as D-Day. Such an anniversary was bound to result in a whole crop of books about the invasion. June 6, 1944: The Voices of D-Day is a collection of personal reminiscences from the Allied soldiers who breached Fortress Europe.

The library has an extensive collection of books about the Second World War for those who are interested in this pivotal period of history.

Thank You

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy. The donations, flowers and standing by us in our time of sorrow on the passing of our Dad - Frank, were much appreciated. Many thanks to the Pioneer Circle Hall and the ladies who served the lovely lunch. Special thanks to Yewchin's Funeral Chapel, Rev. Sam Donaldson and the choir. Ed, Tim, Bob Zarowny and Families; Rose & Gordon Bush and Family.

LIBRARY CALENDAR

May 27, 1994 - The Friends of the Library are working an evening bingo. All those interested in volunteering can sign up at the library.

DID YOU KNOW?

Charles Lindbergh began his historic transatlantic flight 67 years ago this week, on May 20, 1927. His plane was called 'The Spirit Of St. Louis.'
